COTTON MARKETS

Friday Afternoon, Nov. 22 Apparently the cotton trade believes that progress is being made toward. better buying chances for export of raw material. The announcement made yesof the market, that restrictions had been lifted against shipment of cotton to allied and neutral countries had good effect on sentiment, as it was regarded as the forerunger of more liberal buying. It maturally summated buying, for there has also peen an increase in the still further enlargement. Encouragement is reported for those who are striving to have through hills of lading tesumed, whereby business will be fa-officiated, and would thus stimulate buy-

Liverpool was a factor in the higher market, for the people trading through that center seem to be going after raw material supplies, or are getting read) to do so. There was covering of short contracts in that direction, indicating expectation of better prices and mabiity to buy material on this side at prices expected. At one time during the seasion over there the March option advanced the one-day limit of 100 points, but reacted slightly before the close finals were steady at 58 to 93 points

lack of sellers rather than disposition to holy much. The spot department was quiet, but steadiness seemed to be general. Quotations are still higher than futures and this means that when sales are made on basis the latter is very high. The holders are independent and are talking of much higher prices. They are counting on the export situation being opened up seen and the admitted scarcity of raw material abroad is expected to supply the buying power. The domestic spinners are also counted on to come into the market wear, after a prolonged period of imactivity. Selling of bedges during the final half hour caused a drop in prices to the lowest points of the day. Futures closed 20 to 52 points higher. NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The cotton market showed renewest framess during today's early trading Resigning sales caused some treggliarity at the start, but after opening steady at an advance of 4 points to a decline of 12 points the market soon sold some 39 to 40 points above last night's closing figures, with the cember touching 19.28. January 28.55 and March 28.15, or 219 to 229 points above the low level of last Tuesiday inorning. The cold wave reported in the southwest and firm canies contributed to the advance, but the buying was most generally attributed to the prospects for increasing exports. The war trade board has officially amounced that no individual localizes will be required for the exportation of raw cotton to Great Eritlain, France, Italy Belgium or Japan after Dec. 2.

France, Italy, Beiglum or Japan after Dec. 2

There was realizing enough to cause reactions of about 20 to 35 points later with January selling off to 28.36c and March to 27.80c, or back to within 2 to 7 points of last night's closing figures. Southern selling was very little in exidence, however, while offerings were alsembled on a scale down by trade and speculative huying. This steaded the market around midday with railies of 10 to 20 points.

No fresh feature developed during the early afternoon and the market was steady toward 2 o clock, with December 10 to 20 points.

A big delegation from the Chamber of Commerce will represent Memphis at the Southern Commercial congress in Baltimore Dec. 8 to 15, when plans for the development of after-the-war commerce will be developed.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 22 - Discussing the question as to what indemnity the entente allies might demand from Germany, Prof. Franz Oppenheimer, writing to the Frankfurt Zeitung, says the total national wealth of Germany before the war was estimated at 400,000,000,000 marks and the total annual national income at 40,000,000,000 marks. He estimated the annual cost of feeding and clothing the German people at 20,000,000,000,000 marks.

ROUND THE TICKER

Cotton.

New York—From time to time spot holders will be willing to meet the demand and a check in the upward movement, with possibility of a good reaction, may result. But, as said before, flurope needs cotton and we have it, and she must buy it from us. The next question is a matter of price and apparently the farmer has the dictation of that.—Night letter from Cotter to Turner.

New York—The market nosition is greatly confused and while the uncertainties are so many and serbous conservatism is the one policy of safety would-be buyers of stocks may well await the dawn of a brighter day. The whole financial and business and economic world has the greatest problems to solve, and we do not feel like criticizing our banking control for clamping the lid down tight while things are as at present. A prominent copper man said yesterday, he would be inclined to accept a bid not much above 20 cents a pound for his company's output in the next year if he could get one.—Morse.

Chicago—Cash corn and cats will be n demand on all weak spots unti-here is a decided increase in receipts. -King, Farnum & Co. to Reese. Ring, Farnum & Co. to Reese.

Chicago—Corn sentiment mixed. Feeding demand from the Southwest is declared nothing abnormal. Tribune says car situation is best in years, due to falling off in business. Trade now believes the movement of corn in December will be large. Tribune thinks corn sentiment is mixed. Larger arrivals of corn being indicated. Hogs on farms are 3.9 per cent above Aug. 1 and cattle 2.7 per cent above Aug. 1 and cattle 2.7 per cent above Aug. 1 and cattle 2.7 per cent smaller. Sheep unchanged. Signing the bone dry law leaves the brewing situation unchanged. Brewing ceases May 1. 1819, and use of beers and liquors July 1. 1819, until demobilization is complete. The final end of brewing evidently rests with state prohibition.—Wagner & Co.

Chicago—Reports of increased offer—Arbuckle's roasted, case, Memphis basis, $23.05; roasted, bulk, per lb., 14½@19c; green, common ordinary, 15@18c; prime, 15@17c, frape, 18. CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Corn declined in value today, owing to lack of support. Reports that grain had fallen to a material extent in London as well as in Paris tended to make buils here cautious. Opening questations, which ranged from %c to lc lower, with December $1.294.294, and January $1.31% $1.32, were followed by a slight raily, and then a general sag. Increased country offerings added latter to the weight on the market and so, too, did liberal Argentine shipments, as well as Eastern offers to resell at less than the grain could be laid down from here. The close was 2c to 3%c net lower, with December $1.27 to $1.27% and January $1.28 to $1.28%.

Oats were depressed by the weakness of corn. After opening unchanged to %c lower, with January $74.074%c, the market underwent a moderate set-back.

Pirmness in the how market uffeet.

Chicago.—Reports of increased offerings of corn from the country along with some belief that the market has turned have led to further selling of corn.—E. W. Wagner & Co.
